DIGITAL IMAGERY GROUP MEETING REPORT (25.2.22)

At last – our first meeting since November 2021! For safety and technical reasons, this meeting was held on Zoom, with 15 people present. Ian ably managed the Zoom process, which was unfamiliar to some of our members. Newcomers and existing members introduced themselves before the traditional photo sharing took place, managed by Helen Gowland. This took time because we had not met for so long, the topics were interesting, and so many photos (80!) were shared.

The archival topic of Mysterious involved much explanation to enlighten and amuse participants.

The current topic of Summer Joy brought alive many happy, family and holiday moments from the last few months.

Alan Shadwell's travelogue of his visit to Barcelona had a special emphasis on the artistic work of Antoni Gaudi, with illustrative reference to La Sagrada Familia Cathedral and many other buildings and sculptures. Their beauty, intricacy and meaning was described knowledgeably and extensively by Alan – all the more interesting because of the travel restrictions we currently experience.

The meeting ended with a request to members to submit suggestions for subsequent meetings, and an invitation to join a treasure hunt at Founders Park.

The Treasure Hunt at Founders on March 4th.

It was organised by Til and Yvonne and attended by 8 members (see Ian's photo below). We were given the names of 8 well-known songs and sent scurrying to photograph something from the many Founders exhibits that connected with each theme. Our adventure ended with an enjoyable visit to the café, and the photos will be shared at the next DIG meeting.
